

Trade Preference, Agreements and Origin Rules

19 MARCH 2020
3 NOVEMBER 2020
09:30 - 12:30

QUALIFIES TOWARDS YOUR FOUNDATION AWARD

Trading with international markets can make a significant contribution to the bottom line of any business and understanding preference agreements will support this aim. International trade under preference allows you to import and/or export goods at a lower or nil rate of customs duty.

The rate of duty payable depends on the type of goods, whether you're importing or exporting, where the goods are deemed to have come from - the 'originating' country - and their destination. The preference agreements that apply in the UK are applicable across the EU.

COURSE CONTENT

- > An introduction to and general principles of preference
- > Understanding the difference between preference and non-preference origin
- > Clarification of the rule books
- > What are the preference documents?
- > Examples of the rules for a change of tariff, percentage and textiles
- > The importance of the Export declaration
- > Claiming preference on import
- > How to complete and request a supplier declaration
- > What you need for record keeping
- > How to become an approved exporter and simplified procedures (e.g. Korea)
- > The types of cumulation and partner countries.
- > Summary, Questions and Feedback

Delegates will depart with a map showing trade agreements in place and under consideration for exporting, details of agreements the EU has for importing, the cumulation matrix and a full set of informative notes.
